REPORT – 11

Communication & Advocacy – AGRA TZ Prepared by:

Rockfield Sailo
Consultancy: Communication and Advocacy
Client: AGRA Tanzania
Reporting Period: Jan 2026

1. INTRODUCTION

This section outlines key communication and advocacy activities undertaken to strengthen the visibility of AGRA's programmes and strategic messaging in Tanzania. The activities focused on evidence-based storytelling, media engagement, and public information dissemination to highlight AGRA's contribution to youth employment, agricultural transformation, and food systems resilience. Through targeted digital content production, national and community media outreach, and thought-leadership interviews, the work amplified programme results under YEFFA, elevated AGRA's global policy messaging ahead of Davos 2026, and reinforced AGRA's 20-year legacy and forward-looking priorities in Tanzania. Collectively, these efforts supported AGRA's advocacy objectives by translating programme impact into clear, accessible narratives for diverse audiences, including the public, partners, and policymakers.

2. BACKGROUND AND OBJECTIVE OF THE ASSIGNMENT

AGRA is committed to advancing sustainable food systems in Africa by strengthening smallholder farmers' productivity and market linkages. As part of its 2023-2027 Corporate Strategy, AGRA seeks to enhance its communication and advocacy efforts to ensure key agricultural narratives reach a broad audience.

The consultancy assignment focuses on implementing AGRA's communication and advocacy strategies by engaging with stakeholders, developing multimedia content, and enhancing AGRA's presence in key agricultural forums. This includes strengthening media partnerships, digital outreach, storytelling, and event engagement.

3. SCOPE OF THIS ASSIGNMENT

The key areas of focus for this consultancy include:

- Researching and developing comprehensive stories on Tanzania's agricultural landscape.
- Establishing and maintaining strong media relations to enhance AGRA's visibility.
- Designing and amplifying communication and advocacy messages across multimedia platforms.
- Engaging with policymakers, decision-makers, and key influencers to drive change narratives.

- Tracking emerging risks that may impact AGRA's reputation and proposing mitigation measures.
- Ensuring AGRA's key events and initiatives receive adequate media coverage

4. ACTIVITIES CONDUCTED

1. YEFFA Youth in Jobs: Storytelling Content
   Developed and delivered YEFFA storytelling content for the AGRA website and social media platforms, including three ready-to-publish multimedia pieces (videos and image assets) showcasing youth employment outcomes under the YEFFA programme.

2. AGRA Davos Media Coverage
   Facilitated Tanzanian media coverage of AGRA's Davos messaging. Ahead of Davos 2026, AGRA highlighted the convergence of climate pressures, geopolitical disruptions, and fragile food systems, underscoring the heightened risk of hunger and the need for sustained global attention.

3. Interviews: Community Radio Engagement
   Coordinated interviews by linking implementing partners with community radio stations to communicate information on ongoing MSME trainings, business linkages, and mentorship opportunities to local communities.

4. Interview: AGRA@20
   Produced an AGRA@20 interview with Vianey Rweyendela, AGRA Tanzania Country Director, reflecting on two decades of AGRA's contribution to agricultural transformation in Tanzania and outlining strategic priorities for the period ahead.

5. CONCLUSION

The activities implemented during the reporting period strengthened AGRA's communication and advocacy footprint in Tanzania by effectively translating programme results and strategic priorities into clear, compelling public narratives. Through targeted storytelling on youth employment under YEFFA, expanded media engagement including national and community radio and thought-leadership positioning ahead of Davos 2026, AGRA's visibility and policy relevance were reinforced.

Additionally, the AGRA@20 interview provided a timely reflection on two decades of impact while articulating a forward-looking vision for agricultural transformation. Together, these efforts enhanced stakeholder awareness, supported evidence-based advocacy, and positioned AGRA as a credible leader in advancing resilient, inclusive food systems in Tanzania.
